Employees as Success Factor

Employees are the most important success factor, especially in highly automated systems. A prerequisite for system introduction in logistics is that key users and staff are excellently trained. For this demanding task, primat has developed its own training methodology that enables your employees to quickly and efficiently operate and support your installed system.

We enable them to safely and independently manage the productive operation. We hold regular seminars at German universities, train the operational staff of large logistics service providers and conduct EWM training for SAP AG.

Partner and Pioneer

primat was founded in 1991 as a spin-off from the Fraunhofer Institute for Material Flow and Logistics in Dortmund. As a Special Expertise Partner of SAP, we have continuously accompanied the development of warehouse management solutions, from WM (Warehouse Management) and LES (Logistics Execution System) to EWM (Extended Warehouse Management). We contribute to the continuous further development of EWM through our close cooperation with SAP AG and our innovation projects.
